His work well done, the leader stepped aside,
Spurning a crown with more than kingly pride,
Content to wear the higher crown of worth,
While time endures, First Citizen of Earth.

"To succeeed is our motive, the ends of the world our limit."

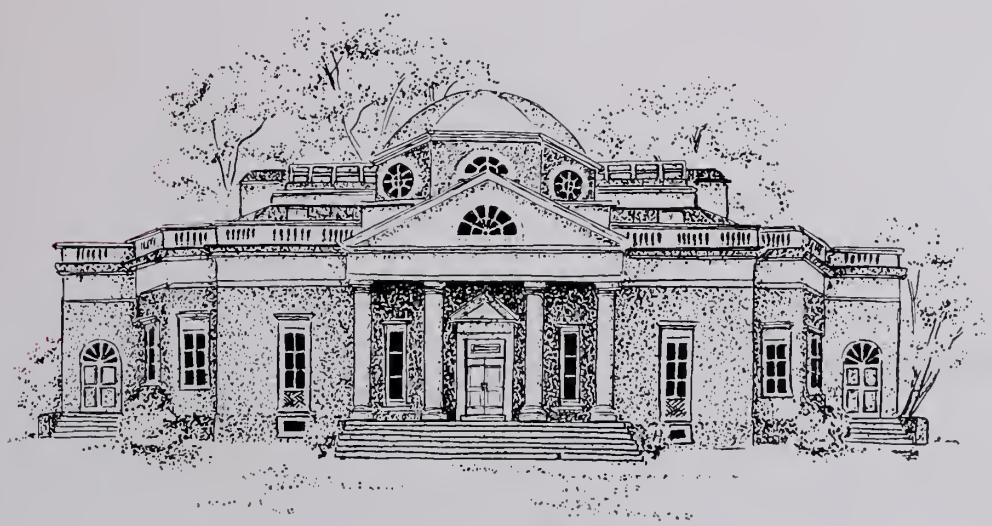
Foreword

As our eager eyes search for the lofty aims of life, which seem ever just beyond our reach, we are buoyed up by the hope that surges within us, the hope that some day we may take our place by the great citizens of the world.

Ours is a world, the future of which we ourselves determine by the influence of our leadership, our character, and our qualities of citizenship.

It is a world built by the ceaseless toils of our forefathers, colored and enriched by the courageous, adventuresome spirit of the Virginia Cavalier.

We are determined to attack our problems with a similar fortitude, and pray that we may carry on with as much fervor, dignity, and resourcefulness.



Voss Neal and Betty Gardner represent the school's choice as Mr. and Miss Cavalier, who in this scene take our minds back over the sands of time to the bygone age of early Virginia. We see the Cavalier couple as they step in after a tiresome journey to read a letter by the roaring fire.

HOMECOMING DANCE

These "modern Cavaliers" were celebrating one of the big events of the high school year, the formal Homecoming Dance, at which the Queen and her attendants were honored.

"Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither freedom nor justice could be permanently maintained."

—James Garfield.

HERBERT A. ELLIS, JR.

Dedication

It is with a mixed feeling of pride and gratitude that we, the graduating class of 1947, dedicate this annual to you, MR. ELLIS, who have done so much to help us throughout our years at G.W.

By your pleasing personality, your friendliness, your untiring efforts, you have not only helped us individually with our problems, small and large, but you have also done much to create a spirit of cooperation in our school.

You have, by your example, taught us unselfishness and how to get along with others, thus enabling us to become better citizens.

Because of your true CAVALIER spirit we shall always remember you, not only as our teacher, but as our friend.

Activities

D. E. Class Activities

This group of active students comprising the Distributive Education classes, are shown as they leave the training grounds to enter the retailing field.

Home Ec.

Yum! Yum! Doesn't that look good — the food, we mean. Yes, those are mighty nice dishes in this scene from the Home Ec. Class.

Typing

This class really clicks. It is a section of the large number of students taking typing this year.

Chemistry Lab

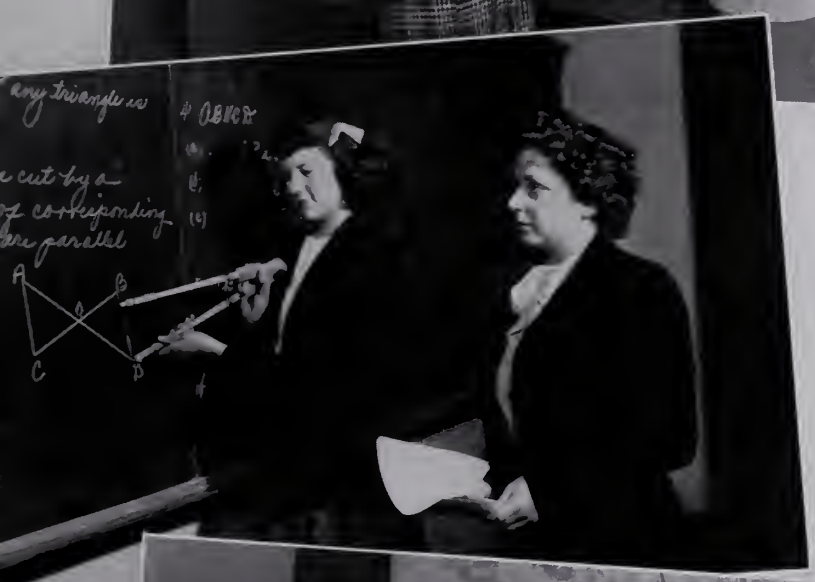
"Cisco" seems extremely confident that he will have a glass full of something or other as he and "Fruit" carry on experiments in the lab under the watchful eye of Chemistry Instructor, Walker Ford.

"G. W. On The Air"

These students seem to be up in the air about something, and with reason, for it's "G. W. on the Air," our own weekly radio program.

Library Scene

Miss Greenberg is explaining to Jean that "Forever Amber" is not listed under the "A's". Donald, who is already thumbing through the "F's" seems to be one jump ahead.



Math Class

These outstanding figures (the two in the foreground) depict a typical scene from Mrs. Motley's math class.

History Class

Here Buddy takes a close-up view, of an international hot spot during a current event discussion in Miss Mary Oliver's history class.

English Class

"Ye-es! But are you sure it is original?" asks Mrs. Hill, as Martha reads a composition before the English Class.

Print Shop

Although these serious faces may make you think this a dull class, it is in reality one of the most productive groups in school. Many helpful jobs are performed by this printing class, which is directed by James Van Oot.

Mechanical Drawing Class

Mr. Grau seems to hold the interest of these future draftsmen, who will help relieve the shortage of homes in Danville.

Wood Shop

Under the critical guidance of Roland "Porky" Bacon these students of the wood shop class labor industriously on their individual projects, but we catch that "just-wait-'til-his-back's-turned" gleam in Charles' eye.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Ewell is demonstrating the principals of effective speech to the Public Speaking Class while Mr. Ellis stands by to wake up the listeners in case they do not hear the bell.

LATIN CLASS

The expressions on these students' faces seem to say, "It is all Latin to me," as Dr. Allen brings out a grammatical point before the Latin Class.

OFFICE MACHINE CLASS

This scene from the Office Machine Class shows but one of the numerous phases of the class which prepares the students to handle complicated machinery in the business offices of the city.

19 • THE CAVALIER • 47

On the shoulders of this group of literary and business leaders of our school rested the responsibility and privilege of turning out the G. W. yearbook. Through the untiring efforts of these staff members, the high caliber of previous George Washington annuals has been maintained and even improved in many respects.

The Class of '47 and the students of G. W. have this group to thank for preserving the memory of the events and achievements that make a typical school year at George Washington High School.

In writing, financing, and editing this yearbook, the staff has striven to make the '47 CAVALIER a book that will be treasured for many years to come.

THE CHATTERBOX

Friday afternoon at 3:20—time for The Chatterbox! These staff members seem to have their copies and judging from their happy expressions, they are quite proud of the national and state honors which have been awarded the paper for its high standards in journalism. Since it was founded in 1922 the Chatterbox has received the Medalist rating from Columbia Scholastic Press Association, first place trophies from Southern Inter-Scholastic Press Association, Pace-maker rating from National Scholastic Press Association, and International Honor rating from Quill and Scroll.

No, it's not the Supreme Court, but judging from their solemn looks, these justices seem to be deciding a serious problem. It is their duty as the judiciary body, to try their fellow students on counts of honor, make decisions and inflict punishments.

school. Besides its regular duties the group also sponsors charities and supervises various improvements around the school.

DELEGATES TO FLORIDA

This year's delegates to the convention of the Southern Association of Student Governments seem quite happy over the great honor which they have brought back for their school—that of the Vice-Presidency of the Association.

Fifth Row: Mike Greenberg, Jimmie Hamlin.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. The George Washington Chapter, under the direction of Miss Antoinette Parker, was chartered in 1943.

Only students who have attained an average of ninety or above in academic subjects and have demonstrated outstanding qualities of leadership, service, and character are eligible for membership.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Among this array of ties, sport shirts, reindeer sweaters, and T-shirts can be found the writers of G. W., who are members of "Quill and Scroll", international honor society for high school journalists.

Students on The Chatterbox and THE CAVALIER staffs who have met with the qualifications are chosen for this honor by Mrs. Nora Payne Hill, faculty sponsor, and Miss Ethel Dodson. The members (1) must be of at least a junior standing, (2) must be in the upper third of their class at the time of their election, (3) must have done superior work in some phase of journalistic or creative endeavors, (4) must be recommended by the supervisors governing publications.

JUNIOR ROTARIANS

Soup's on! These famished gentlemen seem to be in a great hurry to dig into those tantalizing victuals.

They are our Junior Rotarians who are selected, one for each month, to attend the Rotary Club meetings. They are chosen to represent the varied interests around the school, such as scholastic achievement, athletic ability, leadership, and distinction in journalism.

SECOND ROW: Catherine Collins, Anna Callahan, Stella Calos, Estelle Felts.

JUNIOR BUSINESS WOMEN

Chosen for their qualities of ability, service, and leadership, these Senior girls attended the meetings of the Business and Professional Women's Club during the year.

STANDING, first row: Bonnie Lockerman, Tommy Scism, Ewell Barr, Betty Brewer, Robert Ramey.

SECOND ROW: Nancy Preas, Voss Neal, Ralph Lowenstein, Ted Huggins.

FACULTY ADVISOR: Mr. Everett Motley.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

"Now here is something you can put your finger on," says Mr. Motley, as this internationally minded group discuss a topic of current interest.

This club was organized to stimulate interest in the national and international affairs. They have the opportunity, at forum meetings, to express their views on these subjects as well as to hear the opinions of others. In our world of today, these students believe that such discussions are vital toward maintaining and preserving world peace.

FLOTILLA

Rawther crowded, eh what! But these members of the Flotilla Club take it all in stride. The Club which is a division of the Y. W. C. A., is organized to promote higher ideals among the girls in the fields of religion, social and personal relations, health, arts and crafts. Though not an integral part of the school, it is made up entirely of high school girls, and is one of their most popular clubs.

OPEN HOUSE COUNCIL

The well represented group of boys and girls above serve as a council for the popular High School Open House, held every Friday night at the local Y. W. C. A. This group was chosen by the student body.

LEFT TO RIGHT: Walter Baucom, Robert Ramey (Treasurer), Mary Lea Graves (President), Wendell Oliver (Vice-President), Betty Gardner (Secretary), Jeanne Bennett.

HI-Y

Through the Hi-Y Club the boys of G. W. form a union for social and religious aims.

While carrying out the Hi-Y purpose to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character, the members still find time to sponsor dances, parties, and athletic teams.

These senior high boys, who met the qualifications and were voted into the club, are proud of being members of the Hi-Y.

ART CLASS

Hold that pose! While the camera man is catching these artists, they seem intent on sketching him. Art at G. W. has grown popular under Miss Walton's leadership, until the class represents many of the leading students. Outstanding work is done each year, finally ending with an exhibit in the down town stores. By the way, the art in this book was done by these artists. True Nancy Willard is missing—ask her why. Jeanne Bennett is out too, but she was absent that day.

COLUMBIA SCHOLASTIC PRESS ASSOCIATION

Bobby Paylor certainly holds an envious position in this picture. Just think! All the way to New York and back with ten G. W. gals.

Every year a group of G. W. journalists, selected on basis of high scholastic standards, is chosen to represent George Washington at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York. At these meetings the students are instructed in journalism, and are entertained at parties, such as a dinner at Hotel Astor. The rest of the time is spent exploring the city, and taking in the famous sights of Broadway.

THE SCIENCE CLUB

"I love the laboratory; it is my playhouse," is the gloomy outlook of the Science Club adviser, Walker H. Ford, who here seems to have deserted the lab for the outdoors. The students who compose this club are interested in pursuing scientific careers. They carry on experiments and do research work in the various fields of science. Membership to the club is open to anyone meeting the requirements of scholarship and ability. Through their active work they further the progress of the school.

LITERARY CONTESTANTS

It seems that Robert is the only one who "caught on" to that joke. The rest of our literary contestants look on quite seriously as Walter delivers a weighty discourse. The group is made up of students who are trying out for the State Literary Contest, which includes Public Speaking, Prose Reading, Debating, Poetry Reading, Dramatics.

Those chosen from this group to represent our school will enter the district competition and winners of this contest will go to Charlottesville, where the State Contest is held.

Nancy Preas won the State Public Speaking Contest.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

Watch out, Myrtle! Those dimples are showing! The other library assistants, too, seem in a cheerful frame of mind. Well, after all, they have a pleasant place in which to work and a most efficient boss, Miss Hilda Greenberg. After being exposed to the "inner sanctum" of books and methods of exposing them to others, these girls are far on the way toward being librarians or assistant librarians of other schools. At least they will know whether or not they wish to choose this type of work for a vocation.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Looking pretty proud of themselves, Santa's little helpers are protecting their interest—namely the 117 Christmas packages for children in war-ravaged countries. This was the Senior project for this year.

Previously they had filled 1500 Christmas stockings for the Veterans' Hospital in Roanoke and operated a Red Cross booth at the Danville Fair.

Representing the school on the Junior Red Cross Council are Jane Schoolfield, Carolyn Overbey, Gwen Hoelscher, and Jeanette Johnson.

Best of luck to you always, Suzanne.
Love, Jeanne Nostrandt

Third Row: Rachel Rodenhizer, Sybil Fuller, Ola Jones, Jean Lewis, Mary Meade Robertson, Webster Marshall, Norman Glover, Harvey Garrett, Edward Barker, G. W. Pruitt, Wanda Dunlap, Peggy Warren, Juanita Stanfield.

THE GLEE CLUB

It's so beautiful outside we could almost sing for joy. Of course, with these white shirts and stiff collars there's nothing to be too GLEEful about, but the Glee Club is certainly proud of its reputation as one of the most active groups in school. Miss Oliver, its director (right), has led the Club in many presentations before churches and various organizations in the city. Last year the Glee Club received the Superior rating, the highest award possible to music groups, in the State's Fifth-District Contest.

Good luck and best wishes to a really cute girl with a sorry brother!! Best of everything, Cutie.
Freddy Robertson

THE SYNCOPATIN' SEVEN

"Well, plant me now and scratch me later; dig me, daddy, I'm a hot tomato!"

Seen below is this year's edition of the G. W. orchestra, or the "Syncopatin' Seven", as it was generally recognized to most students and faculty. With "Porky" Bacon giving the down-beat and introductions by the rhythm section of Ruth "Sugar-Child" Dodson and "Buddy Rich" Robertson, the band proved to be a great improvement over past high school orchestras. Being able to play only in assemblies because of union disagreements, the orchestra was greatly restricted and the hep-cats who heard them had to be content with tapping their feet and humming along as vocalist June Stevens issued the vocals to the tunes.

PEPSI-COLA SCHOLARSHIP CONTESTANTS

Judging from the studious expressions, that test must be a humdinger. But these nine students, who were elected by popular vote of the Senior Class to take the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship exam, all have high scholastic averages and are very capable of taking the test. Perhaps one of these contestants will receive a four year scholarship to the college of his choice, transportation allowances, and expenses for books and laboratory and athletic fees. When this book went to press the results of the contest had not been obtained.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

These future photographers are quite intent on that picture which Mr. Thomasson is holding; perhaps each thinks he can develop a better. The main purpose of this club is to advance the study of photography in the school and to stimulate scientific interest in the subject. It is not a camera club, in the ordinary sense, but rather centers its attention on developing, printing, and enlarging.

SEATED, left to right: Ramona Cooter (Vice-President), Edward Foley (President), Richard Aherron (Secretary-Treasurer).

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

A stitch in time saves embarrassment is the motto of the Home Economics Club, which was organized this year by Miss Elizabeth Simpson, and is made up of students in the seventh and eighth grade home economics classes. The main purposes of this club are to give the girls more initiative and responsibility, and to teach them to be more helpful in their homes.

The girls have written a constitution for the Club, and have planned several activities, such as helping in the cafeteria, to show their worth to the school.

THE WASHINGTONIANS

These Washingtonians, with Mr. Christopher, their sponsor, taking a sideline seat, are shown as they seriously discuss plans for a cleaning up campaign of the school.

With making a better school for the students as their ma'n objective, the Club is constantly gaining support from the school at large.

Y-TEENS

Too numerous to mention, these energetic junior high girls compose the Y-Teens which is made up of the Amazon, Do-Big, True Blue, and Friendship Clubs. They meet and make new friends, learn to associate with others, so that they will make more tolerant, sociable citizens of Danville.

FOOTBALL

SECOND ROW: Harry Pruitt, Buster Brown, Elton Saunders, Ed Boswell, L. D. Clay, Raymond Knick, Pat Furgurson, Dan

Although the light charges of Coaches Gerry Quirk and Vaughn Woodall, returned mentors from the navy and army respectively, did not have an impressive record, their three wins, six losses, and one tie represented hard, straight football. Three of the games lost were by two or fewer points, showing the inability of the Washingtonians on conversions, and that their record wasn't as bad as it might at first seem.

In their opening encounter the Redbirds trampled the Green Dragons of Schoolfield at League Park by a 27-0 margin. Jacky Mowbray, the outstanding player of the night, accounted for 13 of the G.W. points, and the entire team showed up well.

The starting posts were filled by ends—Charlie Flora and Fred Martin; tackles—Lindow White and Walter Baucom; guards—Charles Williamson and Harry Meade; center—Captain Walter Bridges; QB—"Runt" Moore; LH—Mowbray; RH—Buck Keeton; and FB—Richmond Williamson.

The second fray, played under the lights of Reidsville's Kiker Stadium, was a heartbreaker for the Cardinals as they dropped a hard fought 7-6 decision to the more experienced Golden Lions. A pass from Barnes to Flora gave the Quirkmen their only score for the night. Matt Crawley took over the guard slot from Meade, who broke his leg in this game.

Neither the Magicians from Roanoke or Captain Bridges' boys could cross to pay dirt here September 28, but each team's goal line stands kept the fans in constant tension.

In the only daytime game here, Maury High of Norfolk caged the Redbirds with their weight, power, and speed. Gates, Polizos and Ranier of the visitors' backfield gave the Cards a tough afternoon. The locals ended with a 19-6 defeat on their record. Frank Talbott replaced Martin on end, as the latter dropped out of school.

Winston-Salem was the third consecutive home game. A Mowbray to Flora combination gave the locals the lead in the third quarter, but the Demons scored later, converting to hand G.W. their second 7-6 defeat.

Hitting the road for the first of three out-of-town games, the Birdmen encountered Glass High of Lynchburg. The locals were aerial bound—Flora scored on one. Buddy White, attempting to pass while deep in enemy territory, raced around end to pay dirt when he could find no receiver. Again the G.W. eleven lost because of their inability to convert. Bridges, Flora, and Baucom showed up just as well as in earlier games, but the final score stood, Glass High—14; G.W.—12.

Power was the deciding factor in the 38-6 trouncing handed the locals in Hampton October 25. The Cardinals got off to a bad start and just couldn't do anything right. When it became evident that the Danvillians were out-classed, Coach Quirk gave every substitute a chance in the fray. Mowbray scored the lone touchdown. Crawley starred along with Flora and Bridges because of his hard charging. Two members of the '44 State Championship team returned about this time. Jimmy Allred returned from service in time to play end in the Hampton game, and Lindy Wells, All-State guard, got back from the Army to participate in the remaining games.

The trip to Arlington proved to be hazardous as the Generals over-ran the Washingtonians 40-7, the largest score against them in many seasons. After battling on even terms in the early part of the game, the Cards had a punt blocked which turned the tide against them. However the game was not as one sided as the score would indicate. B. White intercepted a pass and after racing 40 yards lateraled to Bridges while being tackled. Bridges passed the double stripe, and this with conversion pass to John Jones proved to be the only scores for the locals. Allred, Bridges, Flora and Wells were best for G.W.'s losing cause.

Back in friendly territory after their three weeks' trek, the Redbirds encountered Charlotte November 9. With plenty of fans to support them the local eleven pushed across scores in the second and third quarters to win a hard fought 12-7 victory. Barnes cracked the line for the first score and Furgurson pulled in a pass for the second tally. The conversions failed. Pearman, left tackle for the Tarheels, showed up above his team mates, and Lindow White and Charlie Williamson stood out for the locals.

The fact that Coach Quick announced that he would resign his post as head G.W. mentor December 1, to take a State position in Richmond as Assistant Director of Physical Education, was received by the squad with much regret.

Gee, they're powerhouses—bet they eat Wheaties! Pictured above are left to right on the line: Frank Talbott, Walter Baucom, Matt Crawley, Captain Walter Bridges, Charlie Williamson, Lindow White, Charlie Flora. Standing, left to right: Buck Keeton, "Runt" Moore, Richmond Williamson, and Jack Mowbray.

Salem, Homecoming and last game of the season, ended the football careers of fifteen boys just as they wanted to remember it, and made the reign of the queen an enjoyable one.

Keeton scored first on a pass from White and then Webber crossed for the Wolverines. The extra point pass was good, giving them a 7-6 lead at half-time.

Knowing that this was to end the G.W. football careers for so many boys and the end of Coach Quirk's nine years of guiding George Washington gridmen, the squad was filled with new vigor for the second half.

"Runt" Moore raced around right end for a TD, and a Mowbray to White pass made the score 13-7. The last quarter was a see-saw affair, neither side scoring. Bunting of the rivals proved himself to be a triple-threat, and Flora performed his punting duties as dependable as he did throughout the year. Barnes received a cracked collarbone and Dan Overbey got water on the knee from their efforts in this closing game. Moore, Keeton, Pat Furguson and Frank Talbott played well for G.W.

Charlie Flora received the Capitol Trophy, given annually to the most valuable Cardinal gridman, and at the same time Lindow White was named to captain the '47 aggregation. A pen and pencil set and an autographed football were given Coach Quirk by the team just before he left to take up his new duties.

MOST VALUABLE FOOTBALL PLAYER

At the end of the 1946 football season Charlie Flora was named by his teammates to receive the Capitol Trophy, given annually to the most valuable Cardinal gridman.

Returning to GW after two years navy service, Charlie played bang-up ball and led the Redbird scoring from his left end position. He just missed the 1946 A. P. All State team but in 1944 was selected co-captain of that mythical eleven.

Best of luck & happiness to a swell gal. Charlie Flora

Captain Walter Bridges is shown making the presentation of a pen and pencil set and a football, signed by the members of the team. Looking on is Coach Vaughn Woodall, who succeeds Mr. Quirk as head coach.

1947 FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Lindow White was named to lead the 1947 Cardinal aggregation by the lettermen of the 1946 squad. At his left tackle position, "Ike" consistently played a fine brand of football throughout the season.

"We've got a great big team—come on, let's go"—and they did!

Varsity Basketball

The 1946-'47 basketball season will be long remembered by students of George Washington and Danville fans who follow the court game. Coach Al Mathes' boys compiled an impressive season record of sixteen wins and only three losses in a difficult nineteen-game schedule. The Cardinal hoopmen racked up 833 points during the year while holding their opponents to only 453.

The rampaging Redbirds rolled to four easy victories before being derailed. Salem's championship Wolverines handed the locals their first and worst defeat when they took a 51-35 victory.

An impressive 34-31 victory over Carolina's freshmen followed before the Mathesmen were again beaten. Roanoke took a close 35-32 victory from the Washingtonians, and their chance for the western crown narrowed.

The Cardinals got "hot" after this and topped eight straight opponents, including Roanoke, Salem, Lynchburg, and Carolina's Freshmen again. The district crown seemed within reach but a heart-breaking 34-33 defeat by Lynchburg killed those hopes and the Birdmen had to be satisfied with runner-up honors. The season ended with wins over Martinsville, H.M.A. and in the last game, the locals ran wild taking a 70 to 29 win from Ferrum Junior College.

Two more! That's what they'll say in just a second 'cause if Captain Mike Greenberg doesn't rack them up Jack Mowbray, Bill Smith, Buddy White, Walter Bridges, or Charlie Flora will follow it up to add to our score.

At the end of the season, Charlie Flora was the unanimous choice for the center berth on the All-Western District team and Bill Caldwell won a place on the All-Star second team. Flora was the leading scorer with 236 points and Caldwell was third high with 208 tallies.

Captain "Mike" Greenberg, who scored 222 markers, and Walter Bridges, standout guard, were voted the "most valuable players" by their teammates. For this honor they were awarded the coveted WBTM Trophies.

Jack Mowbray was elected captain of next year's team and monograms were awarded to Walter Bridges, Bill Caldwell, Charlie Flora, "Mike" Greenberg, Buddy White, Buddy Stutts, Bill Smith, Buck Keeton, Clarence Barker, and Managers Stokeley Fulton and Roger Lea.

BASEBALL

In spite of the fact that it was the first baseball team at G.W. since 1941, the '46 version of the Cardinal nine gave a fine account of itself. Under the guidance of Coach Vaughn Woodall the Redbirds managed to take ten of their thirteen games and consistently outplayed opponents throughout the season. As it was the only conference team in the western district there were no conference games played but the best competition in this vicinity was played and the season was considered a great success.

Letterman Jack Mowbray, an infielder, and Bill Caldwell, a right-handed fireball pitcher, who has just recently returned from service, have been selected by their teammates to lead the 1947 nine. Indications are that this year will produce another powerful diamond squad as Coach Woodall is expecting six lettermen and a number of last year's reserves to be on hand for the season.

The mound staff will be led by Caldwell, who built a fine reputation here before entering the service, Walter Baucom and Buddy White, a right hander, who marked up a number of victories last season. Mowbray, Mike Greenberg, Allan Knick, Clarence Barker, "Tinker" Ryan, Buck Keeton, Richard Wells and Stokie Fulton are expected to have the best chances on the infield post, while Buddy Stutts, Ernest White and Pat Furgurson should hold down the outer gardens.

L. G. "Lefty" Wilson, G.W.'s pre-war mentor, will help with the coaching duties and many returning veterans are expected to strengthen the team.

TENNIS

The steady upswing of the tennis fortunes at G.W. continued throughout the 1946 season. The Cardinal netters took all the regular season matches and went on to win the Western Conference and State Championships as well.

After defeating Maury High of Norfolk and Thomas Jefferson High of Richmond to become the Virginia Class A Tennis Champions, the Redbirds were invited to participate in the National Invitation Tennis Tournament, but due to unfortunate circumstances could not attend.

The 1947 Cardinal netters continued the winning ways of the '46 squad and walked off with the Western District championship by defeating Lynchburg and Roanoke. Coach M. Roy Hood was very proud of the fact that his '47 netters came through as nicely as the former team. They represented the Western District in the Class A State Finals on May 9 and 10.

National Athletic Scholastic Society

The National Athletic Scholastic Society for Secondary Schools was organized at George Washington last year by Athletic Director Gerry Quirk and was composed of ten charter members.

It is an honorary society composed of boys who must have earned a monogram in athletics, maintained an average equal to or higher than the general average of the school for three consecutive semesters, and must have exemplified the highest type of citizenship and sportsmanship.

Purposes of the society are: to foster high scholarship among athletes, to elevate the ideals of sportsmanship, to stimulate a desire for balanced training, and to develop more outstanding leaders in secondary schools of the United States.

Monogram Club

The Monogram Club is an honorary society made up of students who have shown outstanding ability and excellent work in one or more of the four major sports (football, basketball, baseball, or tennis), or have served two years as a cheerleader or manager. This year the club was led by Walter Bridges, president; Charlie Flora, vice-president; Matt Crawley, secretary; and Garland "Runt" Moore, treasurer. Members are elected each season and are voted on by all members of the club before being accepted.

The purpose of the Monogram Club is to promote fine sportsmanship and friendly competition in the athletics, uphold the rules of the school and promote interest in sports in George Washington High School.

Her Majesty's rule began when she and her attendants were presented to the football fans at the game with Salem on November 16, and was climaxed with her coronation by Coach Gerry Quirk at the annual Home-coming Dance.

Finishing their season with six victories to eight setbacks, the Ladybirds, despite inexperience, came through to record 360 tallies against the opposition's 357.

After leveling the odds with two wins and two falls, ill luck hounded the GWettes for four straight games.

Then an upward swing: again the Ladybirds were holding their own with three important victories, those over Ferrum, the Y.W., and Averett.

At the invitation to participate in the All State High School Girls' Basketball Tournament, the Ladybirds outdid all expectations and in the single eliminations staged a sensational upset against district champions Covington High School. However, in the quarter-finals, a strong Radford six put GW out of play.

Yes, you guessed it. Only the Dramatics Club could produce such a varied array of facial expressions.

The club includes members of the Thespians, members of the Dramatics class, and the cast of the Senior Play.

The Thespians, a national dramatics honor fraternity for high schools is composed of students who have been outstanding in the field of play production, either as actors or as producers of the plays, and have met the national requirements.

The Dramatics Club and Thespians are under the capable direction of Miss Dorothy Fitzgerald. They present plays each year for high school assemblies, civic clubs, and the public at the city auditorium, much to the enjoyment of the citizens of Danville, as well as the student body.

SENIOR PLAY

For once the boys are ignoring Miss Cooke as they give their full attention to Ted in the try-outs in the senior play. Although many turn out to show their dramatic talents, only a few are lucky enough to be chosen for the play, one of the biggest projects of the senior class. Their choice The Green Light, by Robert St. Clair, a mystery-comedy, was directed by Miss Mary Lou Cooke.

Since when has taking temperature been done with a pencil? We guess this modern invention records the reading . . . a definite advantage over the old, ordinary type. The fever seems to have affected energetic Nancy Leigh, for we have at last found her at rest, and, according to the play, she has been sleeping for an entire year.

A pleasing personality, genial to all.

DOROTHY WYATT

A darling gal with eyes of brown,
She's the cutest one that's seen around.

MILDRED YEATTS

Very quiet, but oh, so nice—
She's one of those made from sugar and spice.

The Cavalier That's Framed In Gold

"One day as I went into the room,
The Cavalier that's framed in gold
Reached out to bring me in his spell
And take me back to days of old.

No longer was his head turned up
In stately grace and sightless gaze,
But he looked down and smiled at me
And what he said still with me stays.

"You think I'm dead," he softly spoke,
"But still I live upon this wall
That I may be a symbol here
Of citizenship, our nation's call."

And I replied, "If only we
Could be like you—the Cavaliers—
Graduation time would seem to be
When we are ripe in years."

"I saw you come to school," he said,
"From your first day until the end.
I saw the first bell welcome you,
The final one, you homeward send.

"I saw you come here, children young,
I see you leave matured and men.
But most of all, I saw you earn
The right to be called 'Citizen.'

"As I looked on, you did your part
To fight for all we hold so dear.
Not only are you citizens
But each of you a Cavalier."

At this, he turned his head again
And struck his pose—Virginian bold—
And still remains, a symbol true,
The Cavalier that's framed in gold.

—Ralph Lowenstein.

Virginia Cavaliers

With will of iron and heart of gold,
With cheerful mien and spirit bold,
Adventure-bound — these men of old!

Hither they came, to a country new,
Where they were laborers and courtiers too,
Where they solemnly pledged a work to do.

Summers were warm and winters cold,
But daring were they, and exceeding bold:
Yes, conquerors they — these men of old!

ODE TO JUNIOR HIGH

(How To Qualify For Senior High)

Good Luck to a Cute Person Frances Brown

Ah, there you sit, my little man
And wonder if you ever can
Be a Senior, large and bold
Distinguished, admired and ever cold
To tiny Junior Highs.

Why do you weep and sniffle so?
All right, I'll tell you—wait, now BLOW—
I said I'd tell you how to be
As qualified as great big me,
You miserable Junior Highs.

Now, first of all, you've got to grow
'Til you can make—on your tiptoe—
Faces through the door's glasses
At your friends in boring classes,
You wretched Junior Highs.

Best Wishes to a swell girl. Love, Pat

You'll have to see each football game
And always yell G.W.'s name,
And then attend each High School dance,
But it would be nice to wear long pants,
You enviable Junior Highs.

Of course, you'll have to be in plays
And there are hundreds of other ways
Of keeping you from doing lessons,
Not to speak of all "bull sessions,"
You pitiable Junior Highs.

Soon you'll be citizens, A-number-one,
But don't be worried, keep having fun,
And before you know it, about two years late,
Yes, YOU might even graduate—
You remarkable Junior Highs.

—Ralph Lowenstein.

What to do after graduation

Choosing the right career to follow after high school days are over is a problem faced sooner or later by every girl in the senior class.

For many past graduates, telephone work has offered most of the things a girl looks for when seeking a place in the world: pleasant associates . . . clean, wholesome surroundings . . . high pay . . . regular increases and opportunities for advancement . . . paid vacations . . . the knowledge that the work itself is important and interesting.

There are opportunities in telephone work after graduation. The telephone company is "a friendly place to work."

SYMBOL OF INTEGRITY IN TEXTILES . . .

Those five little words mean something . . .

They mean years of textile research, the best raw materials available, painstaking manufacture, rigid quality control.

They mean unfailing delivery of honest value . . . style, comfort, and serviceability.

They mean it's a product of Dan River Mills, Incorporated . . . the largest single textile manufacturing unit in the world . . . outstanding in the textile industry for new ideas, new processes, new developments.

If you would like to see how Dan River fabrics are made—from the bale to the bolt—call or write D. A. Overbey, Jr., at Dan River Mills, Incorporated. He will be glad to arrange a tour for you, with a conductor who will explain the various processes of manufacture in non-technical language. Special tours can be arranged for clubs, civic groups, teachers, and students over sixteen.

Dear "Sammy",

It's hard to write you and I'm so dumb anyhow and I can't think of a thing to write. But it sho' has been nice having you for a boy friend during our Junior year.... the way you shared my victories and defeats was wonderfull. Never forget the times we had — 'speciallly that day in the hall after the journalism class saw "The Twelve Pound Look"!!! And those dances! We really had fun, didn't we? Of course, you probably went crazy from those dumb things I did and if you didn't, another year will kill you! I'll try to change and stop nagging!

Love ya',
"Bobbye"
